Mr. Tambourine Man
Paul "Buck" Stierle Sings "Bob Dylan, the Early Years"

Singer and songwriter Paul "Buck" Stierle, performs songs from Bob Dylan's early years, 1962-1974, at the Aberdeen Timberland Library on Tuesday, February 21. The show begins at 6:30 p.m. and ends around 7:30 p.m., after the library closes. No other library services will be available at that time.

Accompanying himself on guitar, Stierle focuses on Dylan's early work, such as "Blowing in the Wind," "Don't Think Twice," "The Times they are a' Changing," "My Back Pages," "Mr. Tambourine Man," "Maggie's Farm," "Subterranean Homesick Blues" and many more, including "Like a Rolling Stone," voted number one in Rolling Stone Magazine's list of the 500 greatest songs of the 20th century.

Stierle's program traces Dylan's progress through folk music, protest song, folk rock and rock-n-roll to Christian music and country rock. Brief biographical notes bridge each song. Stierle's CD recording, titled "Mr. Tambourine Man, a Tribute to Bob Dylan's Music," includes 19 of Dylan's greatest early songs and will be available for purchase.

A former member, manager and songwriter for the internationally acclaimed recording group, the New Christy Minstrels, Stierle has performed with the Kingston Trio, Jan and Dean and the Marshall Tucker Band, as well as the Mamas and the Papas and Barry McGuire. Today, Stierle and his wife perform as "Cowboy Buck and Elizabeth" at schools, libraries, fairs and festivals throughout the state. Stierle began performing "Bob Dylan, the Early Years" in 2011.
