Aztec dance group, Grupo Quetzalcoatl, performs May 4 at Centralia College's Corbet Theater

Disfrute de un espectáculo de baile azteca con el grupo Danza Quetzalcoatl en el Corbet Theater de Centralia College el miércoles, 4 de mayo a las 7 de la tarde. La danza azteca es la culminación de 50.000 años de celebración cultural. Es tan antiguo como los bosques alpinos y tan actual como las selvas urbanas de la Ciudad de México. Vengan a celebrar la naturaleza y el respeto por la vida con Danza Quetzalcoatl a través de sus interpretaciones de la danza azteca. Este evento es gratuito. Timberland Regional Library y Latinos Unidos de Centralia College patrocinan el evento.

Experience a performance of Aztec dance and drumming with the troupe Grupo Quetzalcoatl at the Centralia College's Corbet Theater on Wednesday, May 4 at 7 p.m. This free event is cosponsored by the Timberland Regional Library District and Latinos Unidos of the Centralia College. The theater is located at the corner of Walnut and Washington, Centralia, 98531.

With energy, drama, colorful costuming and the beat of drums, Grupo Quetzalcoatl de Olympia interprets a 50,000 year tradition of Aztec dance to express respect for all life and celebrate nature and her elements: earth, water, fire and wind.

Danza Quetzalcoatl is based in Olympia. The group welcomes new participants who want to learn more about their Latin cultural heritage, to participate in a local community or to be part of an ancient form of worship-in-motion. More information about the troupe is at <http://danzadeolympia.com>.
