Gardeners: Your season starts this Saturday at the library

Get your hands in the dirt, literally, at the library. In a hands-on workshop titled “Successful Starts,” Caitlin Moore, co-director of the Olympia Seed Exchange, will demonstrate how to start seeds in your home to get a head start on the growing season. Her class will be at the Olympia Timberland Library this Saturday, February 18 from 6 to 8:15 p.m. The workshop takes place after hours; no other library services will be available.

Moore will discuss basic planting, lighting, watering, and fertilizer, and how to make a greenhouse small enough for apartment dwellers. Product resource lists will be provided.

The Olympia Seed Exchange is a grassroots organization that provides seeds and information to the community. Her workshop is presented in collaboration with the Olympia Food Co-op.

The Olympia Timberland Library is at 313 8th Avenue SE, Olympia. For more information, please contact the library at (360) 352-0595 or go to www.TRL.org.

Timberland Regional Library provides for the information, reading and lifelong learning needs of the Grays Harbor, Lewis, Mason, Pacific, and Thurston county public at 27 community public libraries and 7 library service partner locations. The library system is funded mainly by local property taxes. Anyone needing special accommodations to participate in a library's program may contact the library one week in advance.
